

Sean Cox

sean.cox@uni-muenster.de

For a comprehensive CV—including references, a complete list of courses taught, research talks, etc.—please see <http://www.math.uni-muenster.de/logik/Personen/Cox/CV.pdf>

Education and Employment

- Akademischer Rat auf Zeit (postdoctoral position), University of Münster (2009–present).
- Ph.D. in Mathematics (Logic and Set Theory), University of California, Irvine (2009).
– Kovalevsky Outstanding PhD Thesis Award 2008-2009
- B.A. in Economics, North Carolina State University (1999).
- Economist at Triangle Economic Research LLC and Regional Economic Research, Inc. (1999-2002).

Teaching

- Primary Instructor for Calculus (2 quarters) and Linear Algebra (3 quarters) from 2004-2009. Main duties: course planning, teaching, and supervising teaching assistants.
- Teaching Assistant, 18 quarters from 2002-2008. Main duties: leading the discussion sections, providing help in office hours, and grading.

Research

- 5 publications, including one to appear in the Proceedings of the American Mathematical Society.
- Presented research in a variety of settings: invited talks at conferences, extended seminar presentations, and expository talks to general audiences.
- Obtained ESF grant visit and collaborate with a colleague in Italy (2011).

Professional Service

- Regularly perform referee duties for mathematics journals.
- Reviewer for MathSciNet (Mathematical reviews of the AMS).
- Written and reviewed conference reports (2009, 2010).
- Served on a Program (Scientific) Committee (2011).
- Maintain website for Logic institute in Münster.